

Birdvases: Amber with Red Birds, 26" tallest

BLOWN GLASS SALE MAY 5th

First Unitarian Universalist Church, 5200 Fannin, Houston

Seattle Artist Dimitri Michaelides has been working with glass for over 25 years. His work is included in the permanent collection of the American Craft Museum, the St. Louis Art Museum, the Corning Museum of Glass, the Smithsonian American Art Museum-Renwick Gallery among others. A vase from the Birdvase series is included in the prestigious White House Collection which toured the country and was cataloged by a book of the same name.

www.michaelidesglass.com

Platter on steel stand, 20" diameter

Dimitri will be having a sale of mostly Athenian Design works –some higher end work will be available as well. Athenian design works start at about 18 dollars for drinking vessels ranging up to the hundreds for more involved pieces. The emphasis for this work is affordable glass for the home. Each piece is completely hand blown and hand formed -no molds of any kind are used at any stage in the process

www.michaelidesglass.com

Vases, about 5" tall

Dimitri's limited production designs are recognized by the Athenian Glass signature. Dimitri's design work has been sold in numerous shop/galleries including Barneys in New York City and Gumps in San Francisco. Dimitri no longer wholesales design work to retail merchants, choosing to sell on occasion directly to the public.

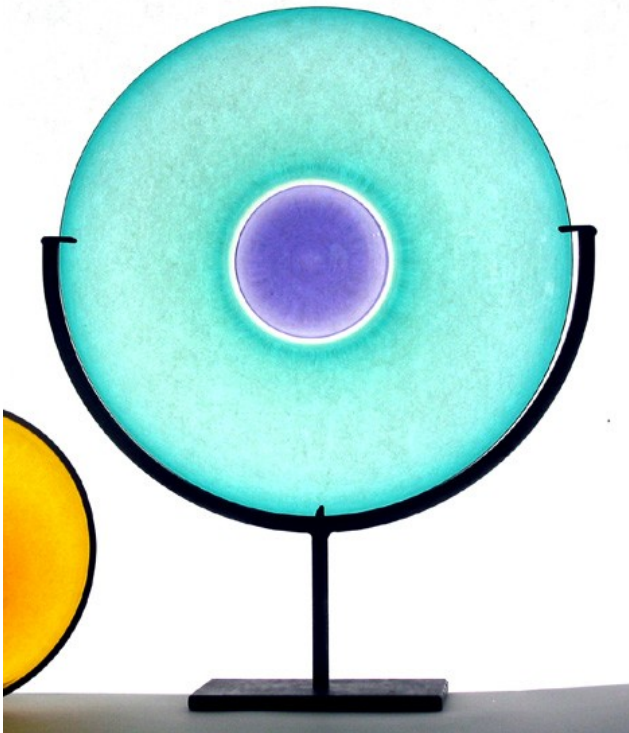

Vases, 10" tallest

www.michaelidesglass.com

Athenian design 2007

Rondell on steel stand, 15" diameter

The sale will be held at the First Unitarian Universalist Church , 5200 Fannin in Houston. The sale will start at 11am and we will be finishing up at about 2 pm. We accept cash and personal checks with identification.

Blue vase, 8" height

An example of Dimitri's sculptural work from the Torso's series more of which can be seen on the

Michaelidesglass.com

Website.

Questions? Please email us at dimitri@whidbey.com